Elexicon Energy Encourages Cannington Residents to Prepare for Scheduled Power Interruptions

AJAX, ON -- July 6, 2022 – Elexicon Energy, the electricity distribution company powering more than 174,000 homes and businesses across east central Ontario, will be performing important maintenance work on its Laidlaw Substation in the community of Cannington on Sunday, July 10 and Friday, July 22. The work requires a community-wide power outage on both days, from 5 a.m. to 6 a.m. (1 hour).

“We recognize that power interruptions – planned or unplanned – are an inconvenience to our valued customers,” says Craig Smith, Manager, Stations & System Control. “The work being performed in Cannington is vital to ensuring our electricity system network continues to operate in peak condition. Our talented crews and system operators will safely perform the work as quickly as possible to ensure that the inconvenience is minimal.”

Elexicon Energy encourages residents to make arrangements ahead of time if they:

- Are on life support or require a medical device supported by electricity (Speak with your medical service provider for assistance)
- Have computer equipment
- Have an electric sump pump
- Have an electric garage door opener
- Have a security company monitoring their home or business
- Have smoke alarms or carbon monoxide alarms electronically connected to their home’s power supply without battery back-up
